

OPENING doors

Open the door to the best of both worlds...Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center offers a unique environment that combines the prestige and opportunities of a respected academic medical center with the personality and camaraderie of a community hospital.

We currently have an opening for a Wound Care Specialist in our wound care clinic.

- Act as an expert in the application of the nursing process and theory for the management of patients with acute and chronic wounds or ostomies
- Advance patient care in the role of expert clinician, case manager, researcher, consultant, educator, resource manager and clinical coordinator leader.

Requirements:

- Bachelors Degree in Nursing
- Mon-Fri availability
- 1-2 years practice as a WOCN, working with and treating acute and chronic ulcers, ostomy care

We've listened to our nurses and understand the importance of providing excellent benefits that top what others in the industry can offer. We offer health, dental, and vision benefits, as well as tuition reimbursement for you and your dependents.

Open your doors at bayviewjobs.org and refer to req. number 91026

